QUALITY POLICY

Sustainability, integrity, transparency, and good corporate governance

These are the milestones of our culture and inspire our conduct towards our stakeholders: colleagues and employees, customers, suppliers and contractors, shareholders and society in general.

Provide our clients with products and services capable of meeting the highest required quality standards, pursuing customer satisfaction, while ensuring long-term value.

Promote production process innovation and product development inspired by decarbonization objectives, enhancing product quality and performance, while sustaining the environment.

Focus on the quality of outcomes, by strengthening leadership and company competitiveness in a dynamic environment, where employees are empowered and accountable for the achievement of corporate objectives together with management.

Engage with suppliers by sharing market needs and stakeholder expectations, to foster a strategic approach to decision-making, with the aim of reinforcing and stabilizing the supply chain.

Structure stakeholder engagement projects and initiatives focused on dialogue and inclusive experience-sharing interaction, engaging our people, facilities and local communities, with the aim of integrating our human capital and expertise within the territories we operate in.

Develop and validate a sound management system, supporting local units while consolidating policies and procedures. The objective is to promote standardization, ensure compliance with applicable standards and drive continuous improvement.

July 1, 2026

Antonio Buzzi
President and CEO
Buzzi Unicem USA
Alamo Cement